

I have found that among its other benefits,
giving liberates the soul of the giver.

— Dr. Maya Angelou

As a Stewardship Society member, you connect with other generous individuals who support Bayou Land Conservancy with annual, unrestricted donations of $1,000 or more. Your leadership gift is a commitment to preserve land along streams for flood control, clean water, and wildlife. It's a commitment to saving Texas, for Texans.

Show you care about the special places in our community by becoming a Stewardship Society member today.

Stewardship Stories

"Stewards of the environment take responsibility and make choices that fall within their abilities. Stewardship of the environment consists of providing resources that enable actions on conservation, regeneration, restoration, and preservation."

Geoff Newton

"We strive to ensure that BLC not only maintains what it has, but continues to evolve for the future benefit of our community and those who visit it. It gives us great personal satisfaction to know that we are helping."

Carol and Peter Jensen

"I find huge joy in knowing my partnership with BLC helps keep homes, schools, and businesses across the region safe from flooding. I also love connecting residents (me included!) with opportunities to explore tons of special outdoor places. I never stop smiling when a friend walks through preserved land—that they never even knew existed—for the first time. BLC is an easy choice for giving back directly to my own community, and even then I still continue to benefit!"
